St. James's, December 1.

THE following Addreſs of the Lord-Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin, tranſmitted to his Excellency the Earl of Harrington, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, having been preſented to the King, his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive the ſame very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lord-Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin, in Common Council aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt Dutiful and Loyal Subjects are too much intereſted in your Welfare and Preſervation, not to entertain the trueſt Senſe of Joy upon every Event that regards the Safety of your Royal Perſon.

This we are bound to by the ſtrongeſt Ties both of Gratitude and Duty, as the Intereſt of your People has always been the invariable Rule of your Actions.

Liberty without lawleſs Reſtraint, and Religion without Superſtition, were the Bleſſings conferred upon us at the Revolution; but they are now, Sir, ſecured to us by you.

The Enemies to both ſhewed their laſt Efforts to ſubvert them in the late unnatural Rebellion, and the Succeſs of it, muſt teach the preſent and after Ages, how little is to be expected from ſuch raſh Attempts.

Whilſt your Attention (in the late Wars) was engaged in the Defence of your Subjects at Home, you was not regardleſs of their Trade and Commerce Abroad. You took Care to maintain the Honour of the Britiſh Flag, and let the World know, that (even in remote Regions) the Right of a Trading Britiſh Subject could be aſſerted.

Theſe Conſiderations muſt, and always will animate us with that Spirit of Loyalty that our Predeceſſors of this City have been ſo remarkably diſtinguiſhed for; and therefore we do, with the ſincereſt Hearts, congratulate your Majeſty on your ſafe Arrival to your Britiſh Dominions, where ſuch wiſe Principles of Government as your's can never fail to found the Authority of the Sovereign in the Affections of the People.

In Teſtimony whereof, we have cauſed the Common Seal of the ſaid City to be hereunto affixed the 16th Day of November, in the Year of our Lord, One thouſand ſeven hundred and fifty.

South Carolina, July 15. The Creek Indians have lately burnt to the Ground two Towns of the Cherokees, killed moſt of the Inhabitants upon the Spot, and carried the reſt into Slavery; and after they had them in their own Country, they burnt nine of the Warriors, notwithſtanding that our Traders offered to ranſom them at any Price. The other Cherokee Towns, that were in the Neighbourhood of theſe two, have ſince moved further North, and nearer the Center of their Country. And the Creeks having likewiſe in other Parts had a great many of their People killed by the Cherokees; they have both applied to Governor Glen to be made Friends, ſolemnly promiſing a perfect Submiſſion to his Determination. The Creeks acknowledge themſelves to be the Aggreſſors; but ſay, that the Cherokees harbour their Enemies the Northward and French Indians, and permit them to come through their Country to make War upon them. The Catawbaws, with whom theſe Northward Indians are alſo at War, make the ſame Complaints of the Cherokees, who alledge in their own Juſtification, that they dare not refuſe to admit them, as they are unable to withſtand their Force; but that if there was a Fort in their over-hill Towns, none of theſe Foreign Indians would venture to come near their Country; beſides they offer, in that Event, to join the Creeks and Catawbaws, and to carry the War into the Enemies Country. Within theſe few Months, no leſs than nine Engliſh Traders have been killed in that Country by Indians, who, we are aſſured, have a conſiderable Reward for their Scalps.

Edinton in North Carolina, Sept. 20.

The following is an Account of five Ships of the Spaniſh Flota, which were drove on Shore on this Coaſt, by a great Storm, on the 18*th of Auguſt* 1750.

One at Currituck Inlet, ſtove to Pieces, the Crew and Paſſengers ſaved, who went to Norfolk in Virginia without ſtopping in Carolina.

One at Cape Hatteras, ſunk in 14 Foot Water, the Name of the Ship, its Dimenſions and Loading unknown.

A Dutch-built Ship at Ocacock, loſt her Rudder, and had her Maſts broke ſhort; all her Crew ſafe: Her Cargo conſiſts of 400,000 Pieces of Eight, beſides a great Quantity of Cochineal and Hides.

At Drum Inlet, a Ship which has loſt her Rigging and Maſts, named the Neuſtra Signiora Deſolidad; the Cargoe reckoned worth 32,000 Pieces of Eight, beſides the Ship. The Officers and Men, who came aſhore, have taken a Paſſage for themſelves and Cargoe to New England, from whence they deſign to proceed to Cadiz.

Near Topſail Inlet, a Veſſel named El Salvador, or El Henrico, was ſtove to Pieces, and is is now covered with ſeven or eight Feet of Sand; four of her Crew only ſaved. Her Loading conſiſted of 240,000 Pieces of Eight regiſtered, beſides what was on private Account. She had likewiſe on Board a large Quantity of Cocoa and Cochineal, and ſome Balſom.

This Account was given to Gabriel Johnſton, Eſq; Governor of North Carolina, by Don Joſeph de Reſpral Deza, Part Owner and Supercargoe of the Neuſtra Signiora Deſolidad, who, at the ſame Time, complained to the Governor of the Maſter and Crew of a Bermudas Sloop, that had taken Poſſeſſion of the Sails and Part of the Rigging, which had come on Shore from the Wreck of the El Salvador; and the ſaid Supercargoe verily believes has got Poſſeſſion of ſome Cheſts of Money. Upon which the Governor immediately iſſued his Orders for the apprehending the ſaid Maſter and Crew, and ſecuring their Sloop. The Ship at Ocacock has unloaded her Treaſure and Cargoe on Ocacock Iſland. Several little Veſſels are gone down to barter with them for Proviſions. They have not as yet met with any Moleſtation, nor made any Application to the Governor.

Genoa, Nov. 14. The extreme Cold Weather we have lately had here, has brought moſt of the Nobility and Members of this Government to Town. The Count de Sartirane, Envoy Extraordinary from the King of Sardinia to this Republick, is arrived here from Turin, and will next Week have his firſt private Audience of the Doge, and deliver his Credential Letters. The armed Veſſels belonging to this Republick, which were ordered ſome Days ago to put to Sea, in order to cruize on the Corſairs of Barbary, are ſtill in Port, being detained by contrary Winds. By our laſt Letters from Algiers we are informed, that there had lately ſailed from thence on a Cruize, Eleven Xebecks, with between two and three hundred Men on board of each; and that ſix others, of between 40 and 50 Guns and upwards of 400 Men each, beſides a Frigate, were getting ready to follow them.

Poſnania, Nov. 18. We learn by Letters from Kaminieck, that they have poſted Guards at all the Avenues leading to that City, with Orders not to ſuffer any Perſon whatſoever to paſs that is not provided with a proper Certificate of Health. This Precaution is taken to prevent the Plague's being brought thither from any of the Neighbouring Towns and Villages, in ſeveral of which it continues to rage with great Violence, Numbers of People dying daily of it.

Parma, Nov. 20. Publick Prayers are ordered to be put up in all the Churches of this City on Sunday next, for the happy Delivery of the Infanta Dutcheſs of Parma, who is entred into the 7th Month of her Pregnancy. The continual Rains we have had here for ſome Days paſt, has occaſioned the Po, and other Rivers, to overflow their Banks, which has done great Damage to the adjacent Country, moſt of the Lands bordering on thoſe Rivers being now under Water.

Vienna, Nov. 25. The Journey their Imperial Majeſties have reſolved to take to Presbourg, is fixed for the 10th of April next. Orders are ſent to the Regiments quartered in Tranſilvania, to hold themſelves in Readineſs to march into Hungary, to replace thoſe which are to march from thence for Philipsbourg, where they are to work at the new Fortifications which are to be added to that Place. M. Pezold, the new Reſident from the King of Poland, had his firſt private Audience of their Imperial Majeſties a few Days ago. On Thurſday laſt, being the Feaſt of St. Elizabeth, whoſe Name the Empreſs Dowager bears, the ſame was celebrated at Court with great Magnificence. Prince Waldeck, and the young Prince of Saxe Cobourg, are both arrived in this City, and propoſe ſtaying here ſome Time.

Dreſden, Nov. 28. The Court returned hither this Afternoon from St. Hubertsbourg. Count Pleſſen, late Miniſter from this Court to that of Denmark, is arrived here from Copenhagen; 'tis believed the King will ſoon nominate another Miniſter in his Room; and the rather, as M. Berregard, the new Daniſh Envoy Extraordinary to this Court, is already arrived here.

Ratiſbon, Nov. 29. Count Palm, the Emperor's Second Commiſſary to the Diet of the Empire, is ſoon expected here from Vienna, to take Leave of the States; after which he is to return to Vienna, in order to take Poſſeſſion of an important Poſt, which their Imperial Majeſties have lately conferred on him. The Members of the Evangelical Body continue their Aſſembly, and have under Conſideration divers Memorials which have been preſented to them upon the Subject of the Religious Grievances of the Empire.

Berlin, Dec. 1. The Margravine of Bareith, the King's Siſter, who was perfectly recovered from her late Indiſpoſition, ſet out on the 26th paſt, on her Return to Bareith. The Count de Hacke, Governor of this City, has again diſtributed, within theſe few Days paſt, ſeveral thouſand Crowns amongſt the poor Widows and Orphans, whoſe Husbands and Fathers were killed in the late Wars.

Hague, Dec. 8. The States General have, by a Placart, prohibited the Importation of Horſes from England, for the Term of Six Months, on Account of the Diſtemper which they have been informed actually rages among the Horſes in that Kingdom. The Penalty for ſuch as ſhall treſpaſs againſt this Law is 1000 Florins, or for Want of Ability to pay that Fine, publick Whipping and Impriſonment, beſides Confiſcation of the Horſes ſo imported. Lady Hyndford's Corpſe was removed to Scheveling on the 3d Inſtant, and there put on Board a Pink in order to be tranſported to England. The States of Holland are ſummoned to meet To-morrow, when ſome Matters of great Importance are expected to be finally decided.

Dublin, November 19.

This being the Birth-day of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Wales, the Great Guns were fired at his Majeſty's Phœnix Park, and anſwered by Vollies from the Regiments in Garriſon, which were drawn out in the Royal Square at the Barracks. At Noon there was a ſplendid Appearance of the Nobility and other Perſons Perſons of Diſtinction, to compliment the Lords Juſtices upon this Occaſion, and at Night there was a Play given by their Excellencies for the Entertainment of the Ladies.
